

SYSTEMATION'S WORKSHOP TO WORKPLACE

After Workshop Support

TRAINING

Your employees attend one of Systemation's World Class workshops where they'll get tons of hands-on experience.

According to an ATD study, the average time an employee spends on training each year is 32.4 hours.

POST-WORKSHOP COMMITMENT FORM

At the end of class, participants fill out a post-workshop commitment form which holds them accountable for taking specific actions when they get back to the office.

31% of learners fail to apply training and do not show performance improvement. Why is this? They lack any accountability and post workshop support!*

People forget 77% of what they learn within 6 days. Assessments are a proven way to hold participants accountable for new knowledge and make sure learning sticks.

ASSESSMENT

Participants will put their newly learned skills to the test with this 25 question exam.

EMAIL BOOSTERS

Workshop participants receive up to 10 weekly emails to reinforce key concepts and provide helpful reminders on how to apply selected principles.

MANAGER SUPPORT PACKET

We'll help you get on the same page with your employees by providing you with a brief overview of key workshop concepts, a list of desired employee behaviors, and questions to ask to gauge behavior change.

When learners receive line manager support, 94% go on to apply what they learned. Make sure your managers are fully aware of what is being taught in order to maximize your training dollars!

90% of a participant's new knowledge will not be retained after 1 month post training. We combat this by providing weekly emails for over a month to solidify key concepts!*
